COMING SOON: GIRLS WHO CODE !

CALLING GIRLS IN GRADES 3-5:

Are you interested in technology? Join us later this Fall at Stetson Library for the launch of Girls Who Code! Learn about the history of women in STEM, the basics of coding, and create your own animations using Scratch while making new friends in a safe, judgement-free space! Enrollment is now open, and we're also looking for volunteers to help facilitate (community service hours are available for high school students who help out)! The program will run on Thursdays from 4 -5 pm. Call Ms. Rory at Stetson Branch for details and to sign up.

What is Girls Who Code?

Girls Who Code is a national nonprofit organization that was founded with a single mission: to close the gender gap in technology. In 1995, 37% of computer scientists were women. Today, it's only 24%. If we do nothing, in ten years the number of women in computing will decrease to just 22%. To learn more, visit <https://girlswhocode.com/>.
