FAQ:

Do I need an NHFPL Library Card to access the online databases?

Yes! As a student in New Haven, you qualify. Just give us a call!

Where can I find electronic databases?

Check out the Teen Pages of our website or visit: <https://nhfpl.org/teenhomeworkhelp-general/>
Click on the subject listed at the top of the screen for lists of databases and other useful websites related to that topic area.

But my teacher said “No Internet!” for this project.

Unlike Google or Wikipedia, all of the information in the databases has been carefully selected for credibility, just like the books you can get at the library. Many databases are simply electronic versions of physical books and encyclopedias. Most articles even give you the information you need for your Works Cited or Bibliography pages.

Did you know the library subscribes to electronic databases that you can use your library card to access from anywhere?

Electronic Databases are online collections of encyclopedias, magazines, and other nonfiction reference materials.

Different databases specialize in different subjects and offer easy ways to search multiple sources at once.

Many of the databases feature multimedia sources, including videos, pictures and sound, to make learning come to life!
